 Ironically it was Station
 WTIC-TV in Hartford, Conn., which outdid all the fancy network computers. On the basis of returns collected with almost incredible speed, the combined staff of the station and The Hartford Courant predicted at 7:30 P. M. the victory of Kennedy in the state and reported that he would be a 10-to-1 favorite in the nation. By analyzing key precincts in the state, the staff also detected the major trends that were to appear later on a national basis.

 which gave the first hint of the strong Democratic sweep.
 Station WTIC in Hartford ran far ahead of the networks and other New York stations in giving details. Since at that early hour in the evening there wasn't much other news to report, it seemed odd that no network picked up the WTIC account.
